The President's Corner

Welcome back, welcome back, welcome back!
I trust that everyone had a great summer and enjoyed all the good weather. During the summer your board members have been very busy gearing up for the 2025-2026 OANY season. Our new website is currently online and we are about to have the monthly meetings at our new location. For those of you who haven't heard, the monthly meetings will be at Verona Restaurant in Farmingdale. I look forward to seeing everyone there. OANY is moving ahead with new seminars and sponsors for our upcoming meetings.

"For those of you who haven't heard, the monthly meetings will be at Verona Restaurant in Farmingdale."

I want to take a moment and thank everyone who attended our educational program on June 29th at Dave and Busters in Westbury. It was a fabulous meeting and we received a lot of positive comments by everyone who attended. I would like to thank our sponsors, Contacts Portal represented by Rachel Durkin and Jamie Hansel; Drill Specialty represented by Martin Ponce; Hometown Insurance, Hoya represented by Christie Ruscio; Talk Fusion by Jamie Hansel; and Warby Parker. We had some great seminars by Rachel

Our New Venue for the 2025-2026 Season

We are pleased to announce that starting on September 17, 2025, which is the start of our 2025-2026 season, we will be meeting at Verona Ristorante, 1255 Melville Rd, Farmingdale, NY.

Our goal in selecting a new venue was to find a restaurant that would offer us delicious food, a great environment, a fair price and be more centrally located to possibly draw more of our members to our monthly meetings. We believe we have found a venue to offer us all of this.

We will meet in the large meeting room. There is plenty of parking and there are no stairs to climb to get to our meeting room. As you can tell by the name, the restaurant offers Italian cuisine.

We hope you will join us at our new venue on September 17th.

Sitting Fee

At our monthly meetings our members receive their continuing education credits and have the option to have dinner. For those who choose not to have dinner a $10 fee is imposed. However, starting with our September meeting, the fee will increase to $15. This is necessary because of overall increased costs.

Winner of our 50/50 Raffle

We would like to congratulate Devon Morton. He was the winner of our 50/50 raffle at our June meeting.

Thank You to Stephanie Maes

On behalf of our OANY board and our members, we would like to thank Stephanie Maes, the Executive Secretary for the State Board in Ophthalmic Dispensing, for her virtual and phenomenal Continuing Education course in June, "Statutory, Regulatory and Professional Licensing Updates."
There was so much information presented that we were not aware of. It was very nice to see our members totally engaged not just during the presentation but also during the Q&A session. It was a pleasure working with her and we plan on doing more presentations like this in the near future.
For those of you that were unable to attend the presentation, Board Member Peter Bacotti, has taken the time to summarize the presentation as well as presenting his thoughts below. Thanks you, Peter, for taking the time to do this.

Summary of Stephanie Maes Presentation "Statutory, Regulatory and Professional Licensing Updates."

- All who attended were thankful for the appearance of Stephanie Maes, Executive Secretary for the State Board in Ophthalmic Dispensing, at our June Meeting of OANY and her willingness to be available to our organization on an ongoing basis. The presentation was well thought out and presented, which put a lot of minds at ease for future needs of the Ophthalmic profession. We could not ask for a nicer person with Ophthalmic Dispensing benefiting from how caring a person she is and her commitment to us. This does not mean that there are no questions with clarification desired for some of the licensing regulations. I am sure that as you study the outline of Stephanie's presentation you will have some of your own thoughts and questions to bring to OANY's attention for State Board clarification.
- We must realize there will always be changes necessary to have our professions functioning and performing properly. We must change with the times, but it will always be with the thought that we as a profession must consider that our prime duty is to care for the consumer to the best of our abilities. Rules and regulations are in place to safeguard the pubic and our license should always reflect this. That is why changing with the times for the Ophthalmic Dispenser is also necessary and why continuing education is a part of renewing our registration to practice every 3 years.
- Staphanie pointed out that newly licensed Opticians have significantly dropped from approximately 160 in 2014 to 65 in 2024. In addition, Registered Ophthalmic Dispensers dropped from approximately 4000 in 2014 to approximately 3800 in 2014. The question here though might better be how to improve the pass rate for people to enter our profession. Why is the number of applicants applying for the State Board exams so low and why are the schools putting out so few graduates to enter our profession? Maybe the schools need an outreach program at the high school level to interest students in entering a college program in Ophthalmic Dispensing.
- How do we police the supervisor or trainee on a permit to know the proper theory and practical knowledge that was given, not just used as a means of legal employment to dispense? Does the Education Board only issue one permit for each trainee? How does one know the supervisor is on site?
- I have heard thoughts that the fee is too high and that is why there are fewer applications. Upon review, I found that other professions have a much higher fee for their applications. Then what is the charge and how many times can our written exam be taken over to pass. If you fail only the practical part, do you take only that part over or must redo the written as well since the practical is only a written test now anyway, your opinion?
- Please remember that the Profession of Ophthalmic Dispensing is an art and a science, which I am sure has treated you well over the years and will for many more years to come. Take a few minutes or so to make sure we as an organization fostering Ophthalmic Dispensing can bring before the State Board any questions or clarification, we need, and thoughts on how to better our field.

Durkin, Jamie Hansel, Andrew Paul and Barry Santini. Our hope is to have another four-credit seminar in the future. As always, OANY is looking for input from our members. If you have any ideas about sponsors, seminars or any other things that will help us, please reach out. If a rep is in your office, please take a moment to mention OANY and have them reach out to us for more information. In closing, I am looking forward to seeing everyone at our first meeting of the year at our new venue. Please have some patience at our new home so we can make this transition go as smoothly as possible. As with anything new, there may be some bumps in the road. Please let us know if there is anything we may need to improve as we settle in. Thank you and see you on September 17th.

Why Is It the Way It Is?

By The Old Geezer (AKA Peter Bacotti)

Sometimes I wonder if we are in a loop that never ends. It seems to me that the way it was is the way it is. Yes, times do change; we only must look at technology available today to realize we are in a changing world. My question though is more along the lines of "do we change with the times" or do we stay the way we were as the world changes?

I know that many of the changes in the world today are to make life easier, better, or more fun. That is as a person who feels he keeps up with these changes and can even master some of them (in my mind anyway). I know the changes are for the good, but I also know there are many people out there who do not want change. Older people, as they have advanced over the years, will find it easier sometimes or all the time not to use a computer, smart phone, or whatever. We all know that a child learns all the things that are changing for us without any problems. Hey, they grew up on all these changes, it is their norm, their way it is. Ever hear the saying that old dogs cannot be taught new tricks?

Then my next thought is we as the OLDER generation necessary in this new world, do we serve a purpose? Are aliens better known as our kids or most likely our grandchildren running the world? Wow what a thought, maybe this is a dream, and I will wake up soon. I would like to think they should realize who raised them and who taught them all the proper aspects of life. It is what then made it possible for them to perfect their skills.

In past generations, the elders were respected and honored. That is what we all should be looking forward to, not being situated on an ice shelf floating out to sea after our usefulness has run out. The young ones learned how to live and raise their own children from what they learned at home, from us. In today's world, in the world of Opticianary we should realize that our ancestors who came to this land as immigrants with high hopes and little else, started most successful companies and businesses.

Because they had little and had a hard time making ends meet, the natural thing for them to do was want the best for their offspring. That meant schooling and getting a job that bestowed prestige and money for their children; lawyers and doctors were the way to go. If the father made his way into a good line of work, it was common practice to want his offspring to follow his example and take over the business. Just look at the Optical profession today and what has transpired. How much Optical retail, wholesale and manufacturing has run the gambit.

The main thought I want to get across is that I want to be able to pass along to my children and grandchildren some of the necessary things in life I learned, that includes anyone and everyone that passes my way. I want to make this a better place for all our children and us.

Just a little way of finishing this piece of joy, that would be my upcoming New Year's resolution. This is a way of making me a better person and parent and grandparent. Someone who, if he is remembered, he will be remembered for some of the good things he has done and passed along.

So, my resolution is: I only pass this way once; I want it to be the best way possible. Let me help those in need, listen to them when needed and pass along anyway I can the knowledge and friendship that I have received throughout my life.

Some Funny Thoughts

- The ability to speak several languages is an asset, but the ability to keep your mouth shut in any language is priceless.
- Be decisive. Right or wrong, make a decision. The road is paved with flat squirrels who couldn't make a decision.
- When I get a headache, I take two aspirin and keep away from children just like the bottle says.
- Just once, I want the prompt for username and password to say, "Close enough."
- Becoming an adult is the dumbest thing I've ever done
- Your call is very important to us. Please enjoy this 40-minute flute solo."
